

Application for parallel certificates (Cross listing)

A parallel certificate is a certificate parallel to the original certificate for the original product. The product mentioned in the parallel certificate is technically the exact same product, but it has another name or type no., meaning that only the label is different from the original product. The owner of the parallel certificate is defined by the owner of the original product certificate.

With this document

Company
Address

applies for the issue of the parallel certificates to the below mentioned original certificates:

Original certificate		Parallel certificate
Certificate no.	Product name	Certificate no. (if known)	Product name

Please find enclosed with this application, for each parallel certificate, copies of:

- Template of the intended Declaration of Performance including name and address of parallel certificate owner and indication of certificate number (i.e. 2531-CPR-CXX-YYYYY).
- Template of the intended label or copy of the actual label.
- Product specification with designation according to the applied parallel certificate.

The fee to DBI Certification A/S for the procedures of certification is paid by:

- The owner of the original certificate.
- The owner of the issued parallel certificate. The fee is to be paid in advance and an additional price of one hour is added to the invoice. Please provide DBI Certification with the VAT number of the owner of the parallel certificate.

With my signature I declare, that the original product and the parallel product is technically fully identical and that I shall fulfil the requirements of the signed application for the original certificated product and the certificate.
